

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY AT
NO. 16 1/2 WEST MAIN STREET.

C. W. TOWNSEND. W. H. POLK.
Townsend & Polk.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.
One Year, in Advance, $1.00
Six months, in Advance, .50
Three months, in Advance, .25
Single Copies, 10 Cents.

ADVERTISEMENTS.
One Dollar per inch for first insertion.
Liberal rates given to large advertisers.
Local notices to cents per line for each insertion.

All communications in regard to subscriptions, advertisements, or matters intended for publication, addressed to THE DRUMMER, will receive prompt and careful attention.

Lexington, Ky., May 22, 1886.

In order to enable our readers to distinguish between what articles in this paper are original, and what are copied, we will strictly adhere to the rule of giving credit for all matter of the latter class.

BARNUM'S CIRCUS took away $10,000 out of town.

The three new Asylum Commissioners are all good solid men of judgment and experience, and will be sure to give satisfaction. Judge Z. Guilford is an able lawyer, Prof. J. K. Patterson is a learned, well balanced man, and Major R. D. Williams is a young man of good sound judgment on all subjects.

ORATORS AND GRABBERS.

The latest news from Washington is to the effect that Senator Blackburn will oppose the re-election of Senator Beck. There are a good many people in Kentucky who will follow Joseph in that direction. Senator Beck has been highly honored by the people of Kentucky, and we fail to see, in his present course, and in his continued non-residence during the past few years, a proper appreciation or recognition of what they have done for him. Whether justly or unjustly, for some time there has been a growing belief that Senator Beck is eminently selfish. That is, desirous of appropriating honors without a due regard for the donors. We acknowledge that Mr. Beck is a man of ability, but we do not believe a State should invest with "renowned" honors even an able man who practically expatriates himself, losing identity with, and sympathy for, his people. The people want to be represented by one of themselves. Such a man is John G. Carlisle, whose ability, clearheadedness and statesmanship are acknowledged by even his political enemies. Upon his shoulders should fall the senatorial toga. Besides, some other section of Kentucky than the Blue Grass, should have an occasional bite of the pie. In the past we have been greedy—even hog-like. Northern, Southern and Western Kentucky want a bite, and they should have it. In Carlisle, Northern Kentucky would be satisfied. Then when Joe Blackburn's term is out, give South-west Kentucky his successor, while we Blue Grass people take a short rest and get ready to go for all in sight again.

During the past half century the Northern States have sent to Congress men who worked for their constituents, men who got all the appropriations they could for their districts and sections. In the wonderful material advancement of those sections we see the result of such selections. In the meantime the South has been sending to Congress her "orators," men who make big speeches, and puff up their own and their constituents' vanities. We need more workers and fewer wind bags in Congress. We want our tribes represented by men who are good "grabbers," who can get appropriations. We should inscribe upon our banners those talismanic words: "We are for the old flag and an appropriation." The day of oratory and guess is over. We want our part of the swag, while the swag is being dug into by the Northern statesmen. We have learned by observation that a man who will stand still and see others carry off a gold mine, and refuse a chunk of it himself, will land in the poor-house, die a pauper, and be buried without a tombstone. "Grab!" is what a people need, individually and collectively. It is folly for the South to be bawling about free trade and other political heresies, while the North is getting away with the swag. Give us men as Representatives who will have every spring branch in the South declared a navigable stream, and secure millions to lock and dam them. That is the way to give work to your people, build up your country, and induce population. Away with the old time "burning eloquence," "invocations," and tinsel that has ticked our people in the past. Give us good grabbers!

GOING A FISHING.

BY MR. COMPLIER.

The American people are "natural-born" fishermen. They have an idea that to go a fishing they will have a day of rest and recreation. But such is not the fact; the average Kentuckian generally meets the "fisherman's luck"—a damp seat on a log and a furnished abdomen. A large number of our Lexington boys provide themselves with tackle, cod lunch and Wizard Oil, then they away to the creeks and ponds, and "in their mind" are going to perform wonders. When the twilight dews are falling they return home crestfallen, with a long string—holding four "goat-head" perch and two little minnows.

Dr. Johnson's famous definition of a fishing rod—"a stick with a fool at one end and a hook at the other"—is one of the severest blows which fishermen have received from literary people. Pindar's lines to a fish in the brook is a keen rebuke:

"Enjoy thy stream, oh, harmless fish,
And when an angler for a dish,
Through glutton's vile sin,
Attempts a wretch to pull thee out,
God give thee strength, oh, gentle trout,
To pull the rascal in."

And Dr. Holmes exclaimed in a couplet:

"Oh, what are the treasures we perish to win,
To the first little minnow, we caught with a pin?"

On the other hand a manuscript, supposed to have been written about the year 1000, and found among remains of a library, the property of the Abbey St. Bertin, at St. Omer, main tains that fishermen have been "singin' larly noticed by Divine approbation." This theory is well supported by a reference to the leading incidents in the lives of the fishermen who spread their nets with Christ on the Sea of Galilee. It would seem, however, that in the good, the bad and indifferent of every age and clime have fishermen. If we may credit an English rhymist, the devil himself was a fisherman, albeit a poor one.

"A crooked cross the devil's head
To idle a day by the brook;
He called on St. Peter and civilly said,
'Friend fisherman, lend me thy cod-rod.'
Of the handle a famous rod can be made,
And I'll twist the top for a hook."

"The devil he lingersed Walton through,
And a hundred baits he tried;
He bobbed and he bobbed, but 'twould not do,
The fish did not choose to be fried."

An Irish poet furnishes this suggestion:

"No doubt St. Patrick was an angler
Of credit and renown, sir,
And may aching trout be caught,
Ere he built Duleek town, sir."

One of the best specimens of modern piscatory poetry fell from the pen of poor Ned Shephard, a young Bohemian, who ten years ago furnished bright sonnets to the New York paper. The poem is as follows:

"Under beech and birchen leaves,
Slithering many a shady nook,
Flows a stream upon whose banks
Oftentimes where with fish and hook
Angling in the tide I sit.
While the winged minnows fit."

"Once upon a summer day,
When the air was very hot,
Chancing to my lonely walk
On a still, secluded spot,
Down upon the ground I lay,
By some old rocks ashen gray."

"Soon there came a village maid
To that still, secluded place,
Blossomed of the Mill,
Lille of form and fair of face:
There she paused the while that I
Neither moved nor caught her eye."

"First her straw hat trim'd with blue,
On a slender branch she hung,
All unsifted by her breeze,
Then she drew her shawl she flung,
Casting timid glances round,
Startled at the slightest sound."

"But, oh! what feelings stirred my breast,
When with nimble fingers she
From her bosom's virgin snows
Saw the jealous fastening free,
And from her shoulders bare
Saw her dress as the cloud stole."

"Defly then the maid unclasped,
Looming in her eager haste,
While I secretly dared to breathe,
The little girlie around her waist,
And with the slightest sound
Crept each garment to the ground."

"Round about her feet they lay,
Yet its sweetly panted moment there
Venus rising from the ocean
Surely could not be more fair
Than this blushing gillie maid,
Standing, trembling, half afraid."

"Tendently, with careless foot,
Stirring due to the brook's sweet rim;
Gently she enmeshed my limb,
Slid down each snowy smelt,
As she walked from the side,
Stoily out into the tide."

"And that day has long since passed,
Yet its memory lingers still;
Never can I quite forget
Blue-eyed Jessie of the Mill,
When she came to bathe, sweet maid,
And I lay hidden in the shade."

Are fishermen all temperance men?
Certainly they are, for we have the authority of an old German poet who discourses thusly:

"Myneher Vandank, though he never got drunk,
Sipped brandy and angler gaily;
And he quenched his thirst with two quarts of the first,
Holding his of fine salmon daily.
Singing: 'Oh, that a fisherman's draught could be
As deep as the rolling Zayder Zee!'"

Two Congressmen at the Opera.
Who Didn't Want to See a Woman Go to Bed.

Two well known Congressmen—well known for their eminent morals and correct living—Col. X., of Kentucky, and Judge Z., of Indiana, went to Albany's Tuesday night, to hear the Winston Opera Company do "Fra Diavolo," set down on the bills as "the charming masterpiece of Aubert," but Greek of the Greekiest character to our two Congressional associates. They had seats well down toward the danger line, and just behind them—a Critic on manuscript upon the beautiful commodes, fignues, scherzos and other things scattered through a popular opera. Through the first act the two gentlemen sat with the complacent endurance of old ladies, and when the second was over they settled down to enjoy, in their feeble way, the full amount of their assessment in seats.

Louise Searle, pretty and plump, was playing "Zerlina," and it was observed that the Congressman looked at the Indianapolis every time she showed up, and smiled with a sort of coppery distended smile, but in the second act, when she came out and made a few remarks about retiring to the snowy couch back near the flat, both gentlemen betrayed signs of alarm and moved about nervously as if anxious to get out of the wicked theater and into a safe place.

"She ain't going to bed is she, Col.?" asked the Judge, in evident trepidation.

"Of course not right head 'befs' the whole house," said the Colonel, soothingly.

Then they waited a minute, and she began to unlace her bodice. The Judge nudged the Colonel.

"What's she doin' that for?" he asked.

"Reckon it's too tight," replied the Colonel, with some curiosity.

"No, it ain't. Look dar' her! She's rippin' the whole darn thing open!" whispered the Judge, excitedly.

"Doggone if she ain't," said the Colonel; "but of course she won't daish to take off anything else."

"I most sincerely hope not," replied the Judge, sighing with relief as the pretty "Zerlina" ceased operations for a moment.

Then she began to take off the little white jacket, and the rounded arms and soft white neck gleamed in the footlights.

"Look at that, Colonel! Look at that!" gasped the Judge, "she's going to undress sure as chills on the Wabash! Good gracious, what would our wives say if they were to see us here?"

"For the Lawd's sake, Judge, I don't know. Maybe it won't be so bad. Let's wait awhile and see, anyhow."

"Zerlina" sang and smiled innocently, and began to unlatch her bright red dress.

The Judge was wild.

"Colonel, Colonel," he whispered hoarsely, "she's going to take off the rag! She's going to do it, sure, and here we are, church members and men of family, sitting right down lookin' at the whole disgraceful performance! Let's get out of this! Come on!"

"Doggone if she ain't," said the Colonel, and as the Judge dragged him along the aisle the Colonel kept looking over his shoulders at the stage and the pretty "Zerlina" till the lobby door closed and shut the pious Legislators off from the perilous possibilities of the wicked place.—[Washington Critic.]

The Blue Laws.
The famous blue laws of Connecticut, about which so much is heard, are as follows: They are enacted by the people of the Dominion of New Haven, and became known as the blue laws because they were printed on blue paper.

The governor and magistrates convened in general assembly the supreme power under God, of this independent dominion. From the determination of the assembly no appeal shall be made.

No man shall be a free man or give vote unless he is converted and a member of one of the churches allowed in the dominion. Each freeman shall swear by the sword of God to bear true allegiance to this Dominion, and that Jesus is the only King.

No dissenter from the established worship of this dominion shall be permitted to give a vote for electing of magistrates or any officer.

No food or holding shall be offered to a heretic.

No one to cross a river on the Sabbath but authorized charmen.

his proportion to support the minister of town or parish, shall be fixed: five pound and five shilling every quarter.

Whoever wears cloths trimmed with gold, silver or bone lace, above one shilling per yard shall be presented by the grand jurors, and the elect men shall tax the estate three hundred pounds.

Whoever brings cards or dice into the dominion shall pay a fine of five pounds.

No one shall eat mince pies, dance, play cards or play any instrument of music except the drum, trumpet and jowhar.

No gipsies shall join people in marriage. The magistrate shall determine the point.

When parents refuse their children contentment, the magistrate shall determine the point.

Adultery shall be punished with death.

A man who strikes his wife shall be fined ten pounds.

A woman who strikes her husband shall be punished as the law directs.

No man shall court a maid in person or by letter without obtaining the consent of her parents: five pounds penalty for the first offence, ten for the second, and for the third imprisonment during the pleasure of the court.

The Horse Shoe
Is a handy sign for a nickel. J. A. Lail & Co.

The Blue Stocking
Fits everybody. J. A. Lail & Co., sole agents.

Reglasses and spectacles of the best make for $1.50 that you pay traveling spectacles $3 and upwards. Cheaper grades that you can't tell the difference at 50 cents, which you have to pay $1.50 for at other places.

We are selling them at this price to close out our stock. Call early while we have an assortment. Edger's Pharmacy, Short street, opposite Court House.

Dr. Howard,
15 West High Street Lexington, Ky., now supplied with experienced dress makers, and will give satisfaction in cutting fitting men's suits, of all styles of ladies' dresses and other fashions worn by the ladies.

Williamson & Bro. sell the cheapest linen.

Visit the Model Clothing Co., 15 West Main st.

Ice cream Soda Water at S. A. & J. G. SMITH'S, Lexington, Ky.

Brick!
We have any kind of brick you want. Give us a call. Opposite Sayre Institute.

Des. Crocker & Hayward,
Shoulder braces of all kinds, especially for young ladies. Edger's Pharmacy, Short street.

Hay, Corn, Oats.
A full supply of hay, corn, oats constantly on hand. Lowest prices. Opposite Sayre Institute. Des. Crocker & Hayward.

The oldest and best bottled Whisky in the world at Lail & Co's. Don't forget to secure a supply before taking a trip.

Something New.
Mara chins and Celery Rock and Rye, the finest drink in the world, at J. A. Lail & Co's.

For Sale.
A first class new Safe. A large Hand Drill, set of Screw Plates, Adjustable Vice, &c. All the above articles are as good as new, and will be sold at a bargain, at No. 40 West Main street, Lexington, Ky.

Our Syrup.
Are made from pure fruit juices, with ice-cream, at five cents a glass, S. A. & J. G. SMITH, Lexington, Ky.

Port, Sherries, Claret,
Catawba and wines of all descriptions at Lail & Co's.

? LARRY'S SALOON ?
Nos. 345 and 347 Green Street,
Opposite Courier-Journal Building, LOUISVILLE.

Mr. Lawrence Gatto takes the medium of the Drummer to state that at his place of fashionable resort will be found

PURE WINES AND LIQUORS,
Imported and Domestic Cigars, Pure Beer and Lunch.

This house is Headquarters for Base Ball Information. All games in the United States received by telegraph at the result of every inning. Call and be convinced.

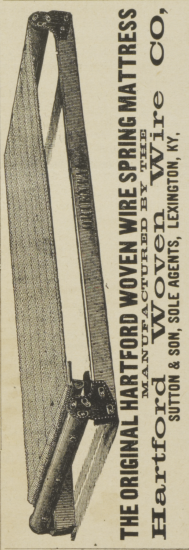

LAWRENCE GATTO, Louisville.

AYER'S Ague Cure

contains an antidote for all malarial disorders while, so far as known, is used in no other remedy. It cures Quinoline, and any malarial or deleterious substance whatever, and unobscuredly produces no injurious effects upon the constitution, but leaves the system as healthy as it was before the attack.

WE WARRANT AYER'S AGUE CURE to cure every case of Fever and Ague, Intermitting or Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Bilious Fever, and Liver Complaint caused by malarial. In case of failure, after due trial, dealers are authorized, by our circular dated July 1st, 1882, to refund the money.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists.

SUTTON & SON,
DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF

Furniture!!!
No. 66 E. MAIN STREET,
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

AGENTS WANTED FOR SCOTT'S Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphite of Lime. Sole Agents for Lexington, Ky., DR. SCOTT, 242 Broadway, NEW YORK.

James R. Magoffin,
The agent for Hughes Electric Bell and other things, is in the city, and will remain several weeks. He will call anywhere he is wanted, when addressed by postal.

New Frame Residence
JUST completed; five rooms; front and back porch; center hall. Back porch is 28 feet long, with pantry on every side. Cellar; good cistern, fine dairy in yard, plenty of shade trees, grape vines. House finished in best style. Good stone foundation. Lot 200 feet on an alley, by 50 feet front. Located on North Lexington near Sixth street. Street cars run in front of house. Will give some one a bargain. Call early.

C. W. TOWNSEND & CO.,
83 East Main street.

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST PATTERNS, NEWEST STYLES, IN

BOOTS, SHOES AND SLIPPERS,
WATKINS & SPENCERS,

16 East Main Street, LEXINGTON, KY.
Prices Guaranteed to be the Lowest.

GOOD TIMES COMING.

'Tis Now Here!!

D. H. FOUSHEE,
16 Market St., Lexington, Ky.,
—DEALER IN—

Wall Paper and Window Shades. Artist material complete, New Stock. The latest styles and designs in Wall Paper, at rock bottom prices.

Paper Hanging & Decorating

A Specialty. I have engaged the services of the most Artistic Paper Hanger in the State. For Samples and Prices call on

D. H. Foushee.

New Stove-houses!

New and Second Hand
Stoves, Tinware, &c.

Tin Roofing and Job Work a Specialty.
All kinds of Repairing
DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

I have a large stock of the cheapest stoves in Lexington. If you want a new or second hand stove cheap, or an old stove repaired, call and examine my stock and prices. I also have Chain Pumps. Sole agent for the patent Water Filter. Give me a call before purchasing.

R. H. GRAY,
57 East Water street, Lexington, Ky.

WM. WILLIAMSON'S ESTATE.
J. R. WILLIAMSON
Williamson & Bro.,
PROPRIETORS OF THE

West End Planing Mill
MANUFACTURERS OF

Rough and Dressed
LUMBER

--AT--
LOWEST PRICES.

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S
ESTABLISHED 1852. It is now nearly sixty years since this business was established in a covered wagon on the prairie of Indiana. The business has since grown to its present position, and is now one of the largest and most successful in the West. B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge is a powerful and reliable medicine for the cure of all cases of intestinal worms, whether in children or adults. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and is entirely free from any harmful or dangerous ingredients. It is a powerful and reliable medicine for the cure of all cases of intestinal worms, whether in children or adults. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and is entirely free from any harmful or dangerous ingredients.

VERMIFUGE

Having used the original B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge for many years, and knowing its value, I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who are afflicted with intestinal worms. It is a powerful and reliable medicine for the cure of all cases of intestinal worms, whether in children or adults. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and is entirely free from any harmful or dangerous ingredients.

J. E. SCHWARTZ & CO., B. A. Fahnestock's Son & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., Sole Proprietors.

TOBACCO GROWERS!
Buy the CATES TOBACCO SAW. The Illustrated Circulars free. COOPERS MANUFACTURING CO., Ltd. London, St.

Cates Patent TOBACCO SAW.

Lexington, Ky. — May 22, 1886

DRUM TAPS.

Colorado is well watered by wells. The hay-seeds came in early to see jump.

People bitten by mad-dogs are now cured by sending them to Foster. Col. Roe Hockett is out in a handsome spring suit. The wire fence business is booming.

A number of the boys about town have "gone fishing." They will be home when Circuit Court adjourns.

It is a fact known to all ready-made clothing merchants that each good-show letter on cloudy days, or by candlelight.

In Athens, Ga., a prohibition town, Jamaica ginger is used as an intoxicant. A man must be pretty tight up when he nags.

The Kentucky Legislature adjourned Tuesday (last) Gov. Allen's Glory Hall. Praise the Lord! Good Lord, deliver us from another like it.

It is said that General Eli Murray, late Governor of Utah, designs making his home there. It will suit the friends of Eli to learn that he has turned Mormon.

What sense is there in leaving Kentucky, where wood and coal is plenty, and going West where you will have to raise your sheep? This is the question. We pause for a reply.

East Hickman precinct was depopulated on the day Barnum's Circus was here. A few men with wagons could have hauled off all the property and the place would be empty.

"The lunatic doctors are meetin' here at the Phoenix, I understand," remarked a man from Jack Creek to a friend. "Yes, 'I've bin settin' here a watchin' 'em, to see how they act,'" was the response.

There is a silver ring to the cloud, after all. The railroads, mechanics and others have gone on a strike, but our wives (God bless 'em) still adhere to their contracts and are satisfied with their wages.

Cradock says this is the cholera year and urges his readers to clean up their backyards. Cradock has been here a long time and doubtless knows what he is talking about.

When you are dressed up, drink and have money, call it the "Darby;" but when you sober up and find that you are dead-broke call it the old-fashioned "Darby." Same in regard to depot and "steps."

"Bill Nye says there is no truth in the statement that he is going to travel next season with his play."—Exchange. Don't be worried, Bill, for you ought to know that many people have an aversion to getting Nye the truth.

"Did you ever plow any?" enquired a friend of Capt. Barney, agent of the C. & O. "Many a day have I plowed," was the reply. "What is a bull tongue, then?" was asked. "Why, the big tongue to a wagon, of course," said Barney.

Col. Swope writes back from Hot Springs that a few bolts have been received from the Palace spring he received while enjoining in the Holy Land. We did not know that the Holy Land spider was so poisonous as the American spider.

Cut-worms are said to be playing havoc with young corn. The question is being discussed whether or not cut-worms ever propagate their species. We have had a good deal of experience with worms, an experience concerning cut-worms. But we have never known of cut-worms propagating.

Senator Brown, of Georgia, at work on a book largely devoted to showing the material and social progress of the South for the war. Old Joe ought to be competent for the work as he has himself progressed materially and socially. He commenced life with one suit—his own line shirt—behind a tobacco-hill hitched to a plow.

A Main Street dry goods clerk, who is too modest to live, called a stocking he was showing a young lady a "hoe," at the same time blushing to the roots of his hair. A sensible, really pure and modest woman will never show any foolish embarrassment over a stocking being called a stocking, and nobody but a fool will call a stocking a "hoe."

Brackie Dan.
Brackie Dan is the name of F. R. Harper's race horse by King Barn. The papers have called him by every name on earth except his own.

The Odd Fellows Hall.
The new buildings to be erected on the site of the burned Odd Fellows hall were under way. The brick work was being let to the Lexington Brick Company, and the carpenter work to Wood Brothers.

Young Lady in Trouble.
Phil Maguire and Harry Wilkinson have been completing the past week as the two finest looking young men in Kentucky. A certain young lady says she can't decide between them, and is in a peck of trouble, as both of them have proposed.

That Same Old Buzzard.
The Lexington Standard says: "An buzzard with a bell on it has been creating a sensation on Pleasant Run, scaring horses and creating panic among the stock of the place. Even the old buzzards are afraid of the one with the bell, and when it approaches they retire to a safe distance and allow it to feed in solitary state."

PERSONALS.

Clarence Zimmerman is in Danville, at work on the Tribune.

Mr. Charles Hanson, Attorney-at-Law, Paris, Ky., is in town today.

Miss Jennie Gross, who has been sick for several months, has recovered.

Miss May McFarland, of Jacksonville, Ill., is visiting her grandfather, Mr. F. Bash, East Third Street.

Capt. Tom McLaughlin, of the K. C. Club, has returned from a trip to Paducah, looking like a fresh bodied daffodil.

Miss Retta Farnsworth, of Jonesboro, East Tennessee, quite an attractive and talented young lady, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. Roberts, this county.

Morris H. Warner, press agent for B. & N. Co., has made friends of all the new paper men in Lexington in a very short time. He is a whole-souled, jolly good fellow and fine looking fellow.

J. Lane Allen has an interesting description of Cumberland Gap and surroundings, in the last number of Harper's Magazine. It is accompanied with a number of excellent illustrations of mountain scenery and other objects.

Mr. C. J. Fidler, of Cincinnati, Manager of The Fidelity Mutual Life Association, for the State of Kentucky, is in the city. Mr. Fidler is a clever, genial and courteous gentleman, an excellent evangelist in the cause of personal and family protection, and represents one of the most solid and reliable life insurance companies in the country.

Grete Park.
Is now open to the public and is well patronized by our best people. The Park is never in better condition. The grass is green and soft. The heavy foliage of the shade trees, the comfortable seats, and the flowing fountain make the Park a pleasant resort for old and young.

New Appointments.
The vacancies at the Eastern Lunatic Asylum have been filled by the appointment of Dr. David as First Assistant Physician, and Messrs J. K. Patterson, D. C. Gilman and L. D. Williams as Commissioners. Dr. Davall takes the vacancy caused by Dr. Turner's resignation. He is an excellent young physician, and was with the troops at Gettysburg for over two months. The appointments are all good ones.

A Lovely Home.
Mr. H. H. Graetz, owner of the Genette, can boast of the loveliest home in the city. The large yard is well sodded with blue-grass and thickly shaded with a hundred varieties of trees of all shapes and sizes. The house is completely new, and all the surroundings, except the shaded street on the south side. The large garden is well planted with gravel walks, lined with all varieties of flowers and fruit, including a dozen varieties of grapes, peaches, apples and pears. There is nothing wanting to make the place comfortable and the old man has nothing to do but to enjoy himself, and take the world as it comes.

The Insane Asylum.
Before adjourning the Legislature passed a bill appropriating for the insane asylum. After two thousand dollars were appropriated for the institution at Ansonage, and thirty-four for that here, the House is now considering the bill. The delay in completing the new addition to the Asylum here appears to have been caused by the fact that a building was to be larger and costlier one was planned, the appropriation running out before it could be completed. It is also stated that there was no policy letting of contracts for the work, as there should have been, to the highest bidder.

Is it Right?
Dr. R. D. Greene and Dr. F. O. Young don't propose to give up professional secrets, and they are right, law or no law. Dr. Greene says that nothing of the kind ever happened before where the public wanted to know all professional secrets. There is nothing strange or new in this of freedom and police. It was openly stated on the streets Monday that a policeman was ordered to go into backyards and other private places to inspect better bottles, etc. The arrest of Simon Gormley for giving a few friends a drink in his private room is a case of law and order. Is a man to be shut out from his own private apartment just because he owns a saloon? We like to see the law enforced; at the same time the common people have some personal liberties left that should be respected even by the powers that be.

Old Fashioned Land.
Grocer (to clerk)—"Say, what because of the lack of coffee?"
Clerk—"Don't know."
"That's mighty strange, for it was setting here."

"Oh, you mean that pale looking fellow?"
"I told it for land."

"Did, eh?"
"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

"Did, eh?"

A Lucky Find.

While plowing in a field near Rosewood, Nat Telford found a tin box containing forty dollars.

Two Winners.

John Rutherford has named his two thoroughbred colts Claude Johnson and Mike McLaughlin. John says they are bound to be worth ten times.

Decoration Day.

Decoration Day will be appropriately observed in this city on the 29th. There will be a fine parade by Company "D," from Kentucky Military Institute, the Castles Light Artillery, uniformed Old Fellows and the Fire Department.

Trot's Military Band will head the procession, which will form on the public square. It will then march to the cemetery, where the decoration ceremonies will take place, during which minute guns will be fired. It will then re-form and march to Woodland Park, where there will be prizes of the military and a national procession. It will be a big day in Lexington.

Barnum's Show.

The announcement of the great show-barn coming was as significant as a fiat from a potentate, or an edict from a throne. It was observed by his highness the public—with a deference which gave evidence that Barnum's name and Barnum's fame were still magnetic.

Notwithstanding the fact that thousands of our town folk allowed their way to the circus grounds through the multitude of rural visitors.

Noticeable among the last importations of Mr. Barnum's European agents, who are constantly on the alert for the artistic talent, are the Julian, brother and sister in an act that beggars description.

Miss Juliet is a handsome English lass, just budding into womanhood. She made many a fortune bachelor's heart jump against his vest pocket Thursday. Her rosy cheeks, painted by nature, her joy twinkling eye and mirth-provoking smile, her model like form and modest deportment made her a friend at once with the lady portion of the spectators.

Whitfield, the man with a hundred faces, provoked screams of merriment by his clever impersonation of the "real" trapeze artist, as did Wm. Conner with his trained elephant, Tom Thambi, and Charles White with his talented goat.

In a word the entertainment from opening to finale was a complete success and an artistic triumph.

Barnum tells the truth when he says, "It is the greatest show on earth."

Coal Oil Stoves.

The use of coal stoves, especially for summer cooking, will soon be a thing of the past. Science and mechanics have at last overcome the trouble and produced something that is clean, inexpensive and adequate for the purpose. We refer to the Home Oil Stove, sold by L. P. Milward & Co., near corner of Main and Mill Streets, Lexington, Ky. They have by all odds the best coal oil stove ever offered in this city, and the safety.

The most serious objection to the use of an oil stove is in the heating of the fuel reservoir containing the oil, thereby causing the oil to vaporize, throwing off an offensive odor, and generating dangerous gases, in many instances causing the stove to take fire and in some cases producing an explosion. The cause of this is in the fact that the oil is heated by the flame of the gas, and is exposed to the flame as it gets above it. The oil becomes heated, and as soon as the temperature of the oil gets above its boiling point it will vaporize and take fire, exposed to the flame as it gets above it. Now, while many of the Stoves have laws regulating the fire test of kerosene oils, there are some that have no such law. Government test is 110, and it is supposed a lighter oil is never offered for sale; but oil is often sold that will not stand too.

To avoid danger from light oils, purchasers of oil stoves should examine well before they buy, when it is a well known fact that there are stoves made with electric lights and offered for sale as absolutely safe, the continued use of which in cooking, will heat the oil in the wick reservoir. The great heat causes the oil to run down the sides of the wick reservoir, covering the surface of the stove with oil, causing a disagreeable smell in the room and a dirty, oily stove, which is not regarded as a prize by the wise housekeeper.

The construction of the Home is such that the wick tubes or burners are entirely separated from all metallic contact with the oil reservoir, by a simple and entirely new feature.

Buy the Home, and no other. It is the only coal oil stove in the market.

Answers to Correspondents.

Harry—We fully agree with you. All widows we have known seemed anxious to marry again.

Jennie—We can't say certain (because we are so divided) but we don't believe Dr. Davall has anything to do with that baby.

Jim G.—The only way for you to get a drink on Sunday is to buy a quart and let it away Saturday night. But drinking it wrong you should not do it.

Sallo D.—Comets have sent millions of women to the grave. A woman's waist was never intended to be squeezed by a corset but the arm of a lover or husband.

Arthur—We do not see any cause for dispute about the matter. We thought all concerned Joe Kinsburgh and then Harry to be the two handmost distillers in Kentucky.

Isaac—Yes, Doctor Young seems to be playing in bad luck, but he is right in going to give a general public health remedy of value in the treatment of diseases of the present time. The discovery of Gooch's Mexican Syrup was the result of the need of a more active and certain agent for consumption, pain in the breast, and all the diseases of the throat and lung. Ask your druggist for it. Every bottle is warranted.

Three red throbbers on note paper is the Japanese symbol of happiness. One red blob on the nose is the Kentucky's symbol.

better get up a match and have the matter decided. Billy is now a doctor.

Amanda—You are right. What the country demands is not idle, wealthy and giddy women, but those who can turn their hands to household duties when necessary, and can look children vigorously when they need it; women who will be help-mates to their husbands, not burdens.

Student—You are right. Don't attempt to brag unless you honestly believe that the Lord has called you, and you have the ability. There are too many pulp-splitters and good farmhands now in the pulp- and professions. Also too many Bible expounders. We have called by the Lord's name the biggest salaries are paid.

Enquirer—We do not know when Dr. Mooney was born, but we learn from history that one Mooney came with Daniel Boone in 1799. Probably Col. Craddock could tell you whether Dr. Mooney is the same person. We have tried to interview the Doctor on this point, but he invariably looked at us and said nothing.

BUSINESS NOTICES.
ARCHITECTS.—We call attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Franklin & Sizer, architects, who have succeeded to the business of the late F. L. Lundin. These gentlemen are first class architects and are prepared to furnish plans for all classes of buildings. We have examined some of their work, and it cannot be surpassed anywhere in the United States.

The Sanitary Pills.
(Patented January 12th, 1886.)
In introducing this invention to the public it is only necessary to call attention to the following facts to insure its use by all smokers.

1. It causes a perfect condition of the tobacco, so the smoke cannot be so objectionable, as it is, thus insuring what is so desirable to the smoker, a clean pipe.

2. It prevents the burning of the pipe. It keeps 25 per cent. in tobacco, as all that is placed in the holder can be consumed, which is impossible when the tobacco is exposed to the action of the saliva or moisture.

3. It is simply of adjustment and cheapness.

In view of the above mentioned facts (which the use of this holder will verify) it is worthy the name of Sanitary, under which it is introduced to the public.

J. A. LAIL & Co.

Co-Partnership.
To meet the increasing demand for homeopathic treatment, I have associated with me Dr. George M. Oakford, from Massachusetts, an experienced physician, a gentleman, and medical officer of high standing. The firm name will be Doctors Edgar & Oakford. Office hours will be strictly observed as follows: Dr. Edgar, 7 to 8 a. m., 4 to 5 p. m.; Dr. Oakford, 9 a. m., 10 to 12 p. m., 5 to 7 p. m. Messrs left at the office, 25 East Short Street, for either doctor, will receive prompt attention.

The Pharmacy business will continue under the firm name of J. A. Lail & Co., J. F. EDGAR.

LEXINGTON, KY., April 28, 1886.

The Standard Laundry Wash in ironing your linen. It makes a beautiful finish and saves time and labor. Edgar's Pharmacy, Short Street.

Assorted Liquors.
Fifty cases of choice liquors just received at J. A. Lail & Co.

Our celebrated eye and ear powders, tritigated two hours by machine, are much superior to those sold at other places. Edgar's Pharmacy, Short Street.

For Men Ladies.
Five hundred bottles, combination and plain styles, just received. Also large lot of fine dress goods, all wool, in desirable colors and new colorings, at 50 cents, worth 75 cents. Call early and get choice at

APPLINGTON, CLASTER & DUFF'S.

Third Generation.
Of beautiful green, red and black trimmings, jet fringes, buttons, buttons, and jet and rosy fine trimmings, fans and handkerchiefs, at

APPLINGTON, CLASTER & DUFF'S.

The Blue Stocking.
Is the finest gift of the world. Only five cents.

The drunken eyes and pallid complexion, the lagging gait, the something wrong going on within. Expectorate to be healthy. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is devised for that purpose, and does it.

Ice cream soda, genuine fruit groups at Edgar's Pharmacy.

A high mountain culture, in its letter of thanks to Dr. Ayer for having introduced Ayer's Pills into the Celestial Empire, called them "Sweetening Seeds"—a very appropriate name. They are sweet, they cure, and they cleanse the most morbidly "seeds" a sick man can invest in.

The Nineteenth Century has been prolific of discoveries and inventions for the amelioration of suffering mankind, as well as the relief of ailments. We live in a fast age, therefore require more and better facilities than they did in older times, which has stimulated our inventive genius to the fullest extent. The medicine which is going to give a general public health remedy of value in the treatment of diseases of the present time. The discovery of Gooch's Mexican Syrup was the result of the need of a more active and certain agent for consumption, pain in the breast, and all the diseases of the throat and lung. Ask your druggist for it. Every bottle is warranted.

Dead White Stocking.
The White Stocking is dead. The Blue Stocking killed it a month ago. The Blue Stocking is the chief, and will down them all. J. A. Lail & Co., Sole Agents, Lexington, Ky.

A Genuine Revolution.
In the shoe business has been made by William B. Spencer. They have certainly the most complete assortment of Boots, Shoes and Slippers to be found in Central Kentucky and their prices are astonishingly low. It is interesting to learn the latest talk of the elegant shoes and the good bargains that are at this popular house. It will convince you that their store is THE place to buy footwear.

Five Old Brandy.
Blackberry Brandy and Cherry Brandy, the finest made, at J. A. Lail & Co's.

All We Ask.
Is a trial. Our shoes and slippers cannot be excelled, and our prices cannot be duplicated. Come and see.

WATKINS & SPENCER.

Something new. Boston Coach Oil for greasing axes. It is just as good as castor oil, and does not hurt the wood. Price 25 cents a pint. Give it a trial. Edgar's Pharmacy, Short Street, opposite Court House.

Ocktalls.
The American Cocktalls ready for use at J. A. Lail & Co. Try a bottle.

Line, Sand.
A fully supply of line, sand and cement, in any quantity desired. Opposite Sayre Institute. DES COGNETS & HAGARD.

THE BEST

boon ever bestowed upon man is perfect health, and the true way to insure health is to purify your blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mrs. Eliza A. Cough, 24 Arlington St., Lowell, Mass., writes: "Every winter and spring my family, including myself, use several bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Experience has convinced me that it is powerful."

Blood

Purifier, it is very much superior to any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. All persons of scrofulous or consumptive tendencies, and especially delicate children, are sure to be greatly benefited by its use. J. W. Starr, Lacombe, Iowa, writes: "For years I was troubled with Scurvy, and believed it to be the best of blood purifiers." R. Harris, Crest City, Kansas Co., Dakota, writes: "I have been an intense sufferer, with Dyspepsia, for the past three years. Six months ago I began to use of the day." C. E. Upson, Xalisco, N. H., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and used to be called 'Red-Eyed.' I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles, and am greatly benefited, and believe it to be the best of blood purifiers." R. Harris, Crest City, Kansas Co., Dakota, writes: "I have been an intense sufferer, with Dyspepsia, for the past three years. Six months ago I began to use

Purifier

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

It has effected an entire cure, and I am now as well as ever."

Sold by all Druggists.
Price $1; Six bottles, $5.
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

Billiard Table For Sale.
A Brunswick & Balke, 4'8, in good order; balls, cues, etc., all complete. A big bargain will be given an immediate purchaser. J. E. DUFFIN & SON.

For Common Pleas Judge.
We are authorized to announce H. MAXWELL BROWN as a candidate for Common Pleas Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

For Commonwealth's Attorney.
We are authorized to announce H. C. BROWN as a candidate for re-election to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney in this district.

WANTED—TRAVELING SALESMEN.—Those on the road, send us your names, and we will send you a copy of our Circulars. Address, ROCHESTER, Kalamazoo, Mich.

C. H. & D. R. R.
Popular Route From—

CINCINNATI
TO—

TOLEDO, DETROIT,
And all Canada Points.

ONLY LINE FROM CINCINNATI TO NEW YORK VIA NIAGARA FALLS.

Direct Line From Cincinnati to Indianapolis, Dayton, Chicago, St. Louis, and all Western Points.

Ask for your tickets at C. H. & D. SAMUEL STEVENSON, Gen'l Pass. Agt., W. H. WHITTESEY, G. T. A., Dayton, O.

Dead White Stocking.
The White Stocking is dead. The Blue Stocking killed it a month ago. The Blue Stocking is the chief, and will down them all. J. A. Lail & Co., Sole Agents, Lexington, Ky.

A Genuine Revolution.
In the shoe business has been made by William B. Spencer. They have certainly the most complete assortment of Boots, Shoes and Slippers to be found in Central Kentucky and their prices are astonishingly low. It is interesting to learn the latest talk of the elegant shoes and the good bargains that are at this popular house. It will convince you that their store is THE place to buy footwear.

Five Old Brandy.
Blackberry Brandy and Cherry Brandy, the finest made, at J. A. Lail & Co's.

All We Ask.
Is a trial. Our shoes and slippers cannot be excelled, and our prices cannot be duplicated. Come and see.

WATKINS & SPENCER.

Something new. Boston Coach Oil for greasing axes. It is just as good as castor oil, and does not hurt the wood. Price 25 cents a pint. Give it a trial. Edgar's Pharmacy, Short Street, opposite Court House.

Ocktalls.
The American Cocktalls ready for use at J. A. Lail & Co. Try a bottle.

Line, Sand.
A fully supply of line, sand and cement, in any quantity desired. Opposite Sayre Institute. DES COGNETS & HAGARD.

OUR

50 CENT

UNDERWEAR

IS THE BEST IN THE CITY.

EAGLE CLOTHING HOUSE,

B. J. MILLER.

Corner Main and Broadway.

THE GERKE BREWING CO.,

Cincinnati, Ohio.

— BREWERS OF THE CELEBRATED —

GERKE BEER,

The Finest in the Market.

John J. Farrell, Sole Agent, Lexington, Ky.

Office 200 East Main Street.

Masonic Temple Theater.

Corner Fourth Avenue and Jefferson Street.

Louisville, Kentucky.

This Theater is now open for the season of 1885-6, and will be conducted as a first class legitimate house. None but the very best attractions on the road will be booked, and the management will spare no pains or expense to make it a popular resort for the patrons.

Queen and Crescent ROUTE

(Cincinnati Southern Railroad)

TIME TABLE.

GOING NORTH.	City.	Time.	GOING SOUTH.	City.	Time.
Cincinnati Express	4:27am	4:55am	New Orleans (limited)	10:25am	10:47am
Cincinnati Accom'	7:00am	7:25am	Chattanooga (Mail)	11:30am	11:55am
Cincinnati Fast Line	3:19pm	3:51pm	Janet City Accom'	7:35pm	7:59pm
Cincinnati Mail	4:55pm	4:57pm	Florida Express	11:45pm	12:05pm

</

Lexington, Ky. — May 22, 1886.

BORROWED SMILES.

HOW STRIKES GROW.
There was an old maid in Danbury
Made a meal of the half of a cranberry.
But the story it grew,
And the first thing she knew,
From a ball to a few
It was stated as true.
Then a gallon—then two
Till old Mrs. McKew
Told the news as it true,
That a Mrs. Miller
Ate a wonderful stew
Of a ton of cranberries in Danbury.
—[Danbury News.]

A cemetery is a beautiful place, yet no one will live in it until after he's dead.

A man should always appear in a good humor when he goes to work. At home is the place to look grum and sour.

Never refuse advice. Of course you have no use for it. Nobody ever has. But it is very handy to have, to give to somebody else. —[Burdette.]

A truth of much embellishment is necessarily weak. Truth alone and simple is beauty in the rough. In fact, it is all the virtue necessary for any one person.

Mistress—"Why, Delia, what in the world have you done?" Delia—"Share, ma'am, the master said the dog was leaking, and I put up the pail to catch it." —[Tid-Bits.]

Grocer—"Half a pound of tea which will you have, black or green?" Servant—"Share, sayler will do. It's for an old woman that's nearly blind." —[Chicago Ledger.]

The class in natural history being asked the difference between a dog and a tree, the head boy answered, "A tree is covered with bark while a dog seems to be lined with it." —[N. Y. Ledger.]

An exchange advertises: "Wanted a boy for bottling." This is a new industry, and it's a wonder I wasn't thought of before. A good many boys ought to be bottled; it may be the only way to keep them from spoiling. —[Detroit Free Press.]

A girl who had become tired of single blessedness, thus wrote to her friend: "Dear Jim, come right off if you are coming at all; Edward Keid erman is in town; that I shall have him, and he has and kisses me so continually that I can't hold out much longer." —[Boston Post.]

"Well, Dinkins, are you going to the club to-night?" "I haven't made up my mind yet." "Haven't? Why it's time to be there now." "I know, but my wife hasn't got back from the woman's meeting yet." "Ah, I see. You can't make up your mind until your wife brings it home." —[Washington Globe.]

"An February March" asked the painter, with a sickly smile, "the days now," replied the quiet man, "but April May." The painter had not an other word to offer. —[Boston Transcript.] June know this ought to be stopped! —[Pittsburg Chronicle.] July when you said so? —[Boston Globe.]

Fogg crossed the ferry the other day. In speaking of it he said: "I had just time to catch the boat, so I tossed two cents to the toll man and ran down the drop at full speed." "But," said Brown, "three cents is the rate. So the ferry folks were out a cent." "And I," replied Fogg, "was innocent." —[Boston Transcript.]

A festive dance came into our sanctum. He had a poem; we kindly thanked him. With the office club we gently plunked over the top of his phiz-ranium. He swore an oath which sounded like blunkum, and gazed at us like a dinged old crank, and then there was a vacancy in our sanctum. —[Exchange.]

"And, oh, did I tell you about little Henry, grandma? He's got a little bicycle." "Land alive! Well, don't get excited about it. Just you put a big practice of soap and suds on it and change every morning or it'll be gone in three days. Your grandfather used to have 'em every night, regular as June. They ain't nothin'; they'll do him good." —[Exchange.]

A boy of five years, the son of a clergyman, had behaved rudely in company, and so when visitors filed into the dining room, he found there was no place for him at the regular table. His plate and knife and fork were at the side table, and thither the boy was finished. No sooner was he seated in his high chair than he bowed his head, clasped his hands, and said in solemn tones: "Oh, Lord, I thank Thee that Thou hast prepared a table for me in the presence of mine enemies!" —[Christian Union.]

"Michael Strogoff," a spectacular play which is now causing the country to groan, may be a fine affair, but still there is a lack of appropriateness about it. It is necessary, in the play, to have a Russian army, yet we do not believe that the Russian army can be appropriately represented by two tramps and a lame negro; and again, a well equipped army should not be armed with two rusty muskets and a horse pistol. There is something grand about a military band, yet a military band should consist of something more than a battered tuba, a split flageolet, a complaining flute, and an ill-used bass drum. We have no desire to injure the prospects of the "Strogoff" company, for we acknowledge that its scenery is good—for lighting fires. Somewhat, though, we do not believe that a great city can be properly represented by a few smears of paint and a glimmer of light shining through a hole. Seriously speaking, it would be well for people who desire entertainment to shun "Michael Strogoff," they would shun a charity ball. Recently while the troupe was in Little Rock, some of the actors became involved in a quarrel, just before the curtain went up. They seized the guns of the army, but the guns were found to be worthless. It is a pity that the soldiers had not been armed. —[Arkansas Traveler.]

Another Confederate War-Horse.
Mr. Palmer Sheldon, postmaster at Ames, Iowa, says: "It is a mistake to say that Sherman's old soldier, recently dead, was the sole survivor among horses of the rebellion, for Capt. J. Rush Lincoln, professor of Military Tactics at State Agricultural College, has with him the horse he rode during the rebellion in the First Maryland Confederate Cavalry, wherein he served as Captain. The old horse is said to be a thoroughbred. He is dark brown, about fifteen hands high. He is in good health, and as fat and sleek as a colt. The Captain rides him to all the State encampments and reunions, and when he takes part in sham battles the horse seems to enjoy the excitement, for he is right on his mettle as soon as the firing begins." —[Chicago Ledger.]

What They Got in Mexico
Capt. Ben F. Egan writes to us from Lexington, Ky. says: "Many long years ago Lieut. W. P. D. Bush, of your city, and myself fought, bled and died (almost) in the war with Mexico, and returned to Kentucky covered with vermin and glory. Both of us now are old men who have almost lost the capacity of being surprised by anything, and we would think it all right if we were to see our old friend Colonel marching down Main street, all in a gang by himself, with his Spring war paint on the nude statue of Mrs. Joel T. Hart stepping down and out from his pedestal in the courthouse, and with his little boy going to meet and welcome the old military rooster." —[Ex.]

A Salutary Lookout
"Will do you want?" screamed Mrs. James from the window to her husband on the front steps at 3 o'clock this morning.
"I want to come in," he growled.
"Well, you can't come in," she said.
"The 'o-kou' is in force in this establishment, and you will have to apply elsewhere," and she slammed the window down and went back to bed. —[Washington Globe.]

Thought it Was a Saw.
"Does the shining steel blade which I hold in my hand cause excruciating pain?" inquired an Old City barber.
"What?"
"I asked if the razor hurt you?"
"Is it a razor?"
"Of course it is. Why?"
"I thought it was a saw, but if you are sure it is a razor, go ahead!" —[Exchange.]

A CHILD'S DEFINITION—A child six years of age was asked by her parents to write a composition. She asked on what subject she was to write; her father said she was to write about the goat. The first sentence the little one wrote was: "A goat is an animal with four legs, one at each corner, he stands on his hind legs and eats his dinner of paper off the fences." —[N. Y. Post.]

No one ever fully comprehends the world's nature, but many a man who has had the bottom of his hopes and aspirations knocked into oblivion by the unfeeling world has caught a faint glimmer of humanity.

"It may be," soliloquized an afflicted old lady, "that my troubles are blessings in disguise, but my friends are all the time telling me, that I do wish they'd throw off the disguise once in a while." "Pomp, splendour, parade, tinsel, lure the idle, enthrall the rabble, but music and banners soon lose their charm to him who walks behind a pigeon-toed man in a procession." —[Exchange.]

JOHN HAUCK, P. W. J. HAUCK, Pres. Vice-Pres.
F. J. WERNER, Sec'y.

JOHN HAUCK BREWING COMPANY
CINCINNATI

Superior Lager and Pilsener Beer

Export Bottle Beer.
Louis Fischer, Sole Agent,
87 East Main Street, Lexington, Ky.
On draught at Main Street Exchange, 87 East Main, and Broadway Exchange, 13 North Broadway.

DR. RICE,
122 Market Street, Louisville, Ky.
CANCER AND SEXUAL DISEASES.
SYPHILIS, Gonorrhea, etc.
Private Counselor.
Office hours, 10 to 12 A.M., 2 to 4 P.M., 7 to 9 P.M.

Ohio & Mississippi R. Y.
10 Hours from Cincinnati to St. Louis
7 Hours from Cincinnati to Evansville
4 Hours to Louisville
19 Hours to Cairo.
Fast Time to New Orleans.

Running Four Solid Daily Trains.
CINCINNATI TO ST. LOUIS
The route most to all points in Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Arkansas, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and California.

C. W. PARIS.
General passenger agent, West Fourth at Cincinnati.
W. W. PEARSON, President and General Manager, Cincinnati, O.
W. B. SHATTUCK, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, O.

TROST'S
MILITARY & ORCHESTRAL BAND.
(FORMERLY WOLF & TROST)
First Class Music.
Fairs, Parades, Excursions, Concerts, Picnics, Parties.
And all occasions where good music is desired.
HERMAN TROST, Leader,
LEXINGTON, KY.

LOAN OFFICE
M. HARTSTEIN,
No. 49 EAST MAIN STREET,
Lexington, - - Ky.
Money loaned on Watches, Diamonds, Guns, Pistols, and all articles of value.

HOTEL
RESTAURANT.
Winchester, Ky.
S. A. HAWK, MANAGER.
Kanawha Falls Hotel.
Kanawha Falls, W. Va.
W. C. HAWK, MANAGER.
The Hawk Brothers Proprietors.

LOAN OFFICE
D. ADLER & SON'S
Old Established Loan Office,
17 SOUTH UPPER STREET, LEXINGTON, KY.
MONEY loaned on all articles of value. A large stock of DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, WATCHES, GUNS, PISTOLS, CLOTHING, &c. Unredeemed goods at a sacrifice.

HENRY BERTSCH, AGENT,
JEWELER.
Corner Main & Upper Sts., Lexington,
HAS the finest and best assorted stock of Diamonds, in Lace Pins, Ear-Rings, Studs and Collar Buttons, Rings and Bracelets, Ladies' and Gent's Gold Watches of all the American makes, as well as all other kinds of jewelry of the latest styles and designs. Everything is cut entirely new and prices lower than ever. It will pay everybody to give me a call.
HENRY BERTSCH, AGENT.

GOODWIN'S HORSE AND CATTLE POWDERS
ARE THE FARMERS GUIDE
ALL DISEASES PERTAINING TO HORSES, MULES, COWS, HOGS AND SHEEP.
It purifies the blood and prevents almost any disease all stock are subject to requiring an internal remedy.
This Powder is prepared from one of the oldest and best medicines for curing all the diseases of horses and cattle. Thousands of certificates have been received testifying to the efficacy of the Powder. All that is asked is a trial of this Powder, and the consumer will be convinced that it has no equal as a preventive and cure for disease in stock.

Is a positive cure for Hog Cholera.
This Powder is guaranteed to give entire satisfaction in every case.
J. H. GOODWIN, Proprietor and Manufacturer,
Western Laboratory,
CINCINNATI, O.

C. H. BURDICK,
Pure Old Pennsylvania Rye and Kentucky Sour Mash
WHISKIES.
B. & B., 195 VINE ST., OPP. FOUNTAIN, CINCINNATI, O.
239 VINE ST., PALACE HOTEL.

New Grand Theater
JEFFERSON STREET, BETWEEN FOURTH AND FIFTH.
Louisville, - - - - - Kentucky.
THE FINEST VARIETY THEATRE, without exception, in the West. None but the best specialty artists in the profession will be engaged.
Music Singing and Dancing
Mirth and Minstrelsy.

The Geo. Weber Brewing Co.
CINCINNATI, OHIO.
Brewers and Bottlers of
Pilsener, Rhinegold and Doppel Beer.
OFFICE, McMICKEEN AVENUE, OPPOSITE ELM.
M. BENKHART, AGT.,
Lexington, Ky.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT
FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL USE.
PARSONS' BLOOD PILLS
MAKE HENS LAY
These pills were a wonderful discovery. No other like them in the world. With positive proof of their efficacy in curing all the diseases of the blood, such as Scald Head, Ringworm, Itch, Eruptions, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Dropsy, Pimples, Boils, Ulcers, and all other diseases of the blood. They are sold by all druggists and by mail for $1.00 per box. Sent by mail for $1.00 per box. Sent by mail for $1.00 per box.

THE HOMESTRETCH.
William Lloyd,
—DEALER IN—
OLD KENTUCKY LIQUORS
Wines, Cigars and Tobacco.
Pool and Billiards.
Ladies' Sitting Room open Day and Night.
No. 90 Central Avenue,
Opposite Union Central Depot,
Cincinnati, - Ohio.

THE CHRISTIAN MOERLIEN BREWING CO.,
Cincinnati, Ohio.
Brewers of the Celebrated Brands of Bee'r
Klein-Schwechat-Vienna (Wiener), Bavarian-Double (Doppel) and National Export.
HIGHEST PREMIUMS AT CINCINNATI INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION '81, '82, '83 and '84.
M. Benckart, Sole Agent,
CORNER THIRD AND UPPER STREETS, LEXINGTON, KY.

Goodwin's Cocoa-Nut Oil Cream.
The Most Perfect Hair-Dressing in use.
It keeps your hair from falling out. It promotes the growth, prevents dandruff, keeps the scalp clean, makes the hair and whiskers glossy, restores hair to its natural color, and will grow hair on bald heads.
Sample Bottles 25 Cents. Regular Size 50 Cents.
J. H. GOODWIN, Proprietor,
Western Laboratory, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Blacksmithing
—AND—
Repairing
Done in the best style at the lowest prices.
22 West Vine St., near Broadway.
THORNTON BUTLER.
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY.
J. A. MILLER, T. E. MCGUIRE, Proprietors, Clerk.
THE WELLS HOUSE,
GEORGETOWN, KY.
Rates $2.00 Per Day.
Central Part of the City, and most convenient to Railroad Depot.
Special Rates to all Traveling Men.

Kentucky Central RAILROAD.
Schedule in Effect December 16, 1885.
SOUTH BOUND.
Lexington 7:30am 8:30pm 10:30pm
Air Lexington 12:15pm 6:00pm
NORTH BOUND.
Lexington 7:35am 2:45pm 4:30pm
Air Lexington 11:15am 6:00pm
MAYSVILLE BRANCH.
Lexington 7:35am 4:30pm
Air Lexington 2:45pm 6:00pm
GEORGETOWN, KY.
GEO. W. BARNEY, Ticket Agent,
Phoenix Hotel and Depot.
D. A. FEELEY, Trav. Pass. Agent,
Lexington, Ky.
S. F. B. MORSE, Gen'l Pass'r Agent,
Lexington, Ky.

$3.00
TO CINCINNATI
—AND RETURN—
—VIA THE—
Cincinnati Southern Railroad,
—OR THE GREAT—
May Festival,
Tickets on sale May 17, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, 1886, good to May 23, 1886.
G. W. SCHULTZ, Agent.

WANTED—LADY
For which I will pay the highest Cash Price.
Ass. McConathy,
No. Cheapside,
LEXINGTON, KY.